Who can get an advocate?

You may be able to get an advocate if you are:

- An adult who needs care and support.
- A carer of an adult, or a carer of a child in transition.
- A young person and you are approaching the transition to adult care and support.

Whatever your living situation, you can receive support from an advocate; whether you live at home, in a care home, in hospital or you are in prison.

VoiceAbility Care Act Advocacy support is available to Enfield and Haringey residents only. For Care Act advocacy in Barnet, contact barnetcab.org.uk/careandsupport/

When can an advocate help you?

If you need care and support services, or support someone who does, you may have the right to independent advocacy.

An advocate can support you to speak up, or they might speak up on your behalf if you need them to.

What will your advocate do?

Independent advocates support you to make your own decisions and be involved in discussions about care and support.

An advocate can help you to:
- Understand what is happening.
- Understand information.
- Understand your options and make decisions.
- Tell people what you want.
- Make sure your rights are respected.
- Challenge decisions that have been made about you if you don’t agree with them.

Decisions about your care and support will consider your wellbeing and what is important to you and the people you care about.

If you find being involved in these very hard, and you do not have a friend or relative who can help make sure you are involved, then you may be eligible for an advocate.
